What time is it?
Time to do well—
Time to do well—
Time to live better—
Give up that gradge—
Answer that lotter—
Speak that kind word, to sweeten a sorrow;
Do that good deed you would leave till to-mor

Time to try sard
In that new situation—
Time to build on
A solid foundation
Gis ing up needlessly changing or drifting;
Lenving the quicksands that ever are shifting.

Leaving the quicksands that ever are shifting.

What time is it?

Time to be thrifty:
Farmers, take warning—
Flow in the sprintine—
Sow in the morning—
Spring rain is coning, zophys are blowing;
These count cost—
Lessen expenses—
Lessen expenses—
Time to look well
To the pates and fences;
Making and mending, ne good workers should.
Shutting out evil and keeping the good.

What time is it?

Time to be carnest.
Laying up treasure,
Time to be thoughtful,
Choosing true pleasure;
Leving stearn justice—of truth being load;
Making your word just as good as your bond
Time to be happy,
Boing your best—
Time to be trustful,
Leaving the rest,

No'er can we call back one minute of time.

THE Vicksburg Herald jubilates over the fact that the Yankees are again invading the South. It says: "About twenty years ago they came with fire

and sword, but now they come to invest their money in factories, railroads, plantations, patent medicines, faro banks and other banks." With reference to the fare banks and patent medicines, the South can continue to ostracise

Northern importations without exciting a sectional growl. If they come, the North disclaims any responsibility for them; they will be the direct results of Southern invitation. With respect to the other items, it is a cheering thing to hear the friendly and welcoming remarks of a representative Southern journal. It says that the Yankees are whooping up things all along the line,

and propose to fight it out until you can't tell the difference between a Nor-thern and a Southern citizen. They are marrying Southern girls," etc. The Herald asserts that the "Yanks have captured Atlanta, Richmond, Charleston

and New Orleans, and there is a report that a raid will soon be made on Vicksburg." It is the tone in which these facts are stated, rather than the facts

themselves, which indicate the extent to which the war line is being abolished. The process may be slow, but it

POLITICALLY, the selection of Judge Folger is not entirely unlike that of Governor Morgan. Indeed, it has been said that Governor Morgan himself, at an early day, suggested the name of Mr. Folger, and it is certain that he was not urged or favored by ex-Senator Conking and a portion of his friends when President Garfield was considering the formation of a cabinet. But he has not been active or conspicuous as dissenting from the course of the exconator, and fairly represents the Re-publican party of New York rather than any fraction or faction of it. The President may with reason expect that his intentions shall be judged by the two selections which he has made for the most important post in his cabinet. It many be fairly inferred that he desires Folger's and the President's best friends in New York say that the appointment is permanent, and that Folger will enter upon his new du ties with enthusiasm and a desire to make a creditable record. The Judge has grown weary of his work upon the Court of Appeals bench, not because the labors are distasteful, but because they are very great.

of the Spangler Homentonic So Long as She Lives. EDITORS REPUBLICAN:-Many of your readers will doubtiess be glad to learn that the suit recently filed before the circuit court at Decatur, by Attorneys Crea & Ewing, in be-half of Mrs. Elizabeth Spangler, widow of Joseph Spangler, and against his beirs as defendants, was, on Wednesday of last week, (Oct. 26), settled by a compromise, through free use of all the privileges, proceeds and benefits during her life time of the house and 40 acres of land. This arrangement scores yery just, and certainly reflects much credit on through whose instrumentality the settlement gentleman was thought by the executor deprived the widow of all interest in his real estate after a certain time, and accordingly the land was sold and deeds made by the executor to the purchasers in the month of April last. it was thought the widow must now leave her home without any interest or share in the proceeds of the estate. Thus matters stood in executed Mrs. K. Benjamin, who is a grand daughter of the testator, went to the affice of our county clerk and examined the will there on record as made by her grandfather. She at once took grounds for believing that the will did contain precision for a life time interest for the widow to the homestead, and she then secured the services of Attorneys Crea & Ewing in an effort to establish her construction of the will in this case before the circuit court
